

Caribbean Stud Poker

We have written these rules in order to help you when you play in our casino. Don't hesitate to ask anyone of our gaming staff if you are not sure of anything. Stud Poker is an easy game to learn, can be played with a minimum amount of money and this makes it the well popular casino game in the world.

In this game players have the opportunity to place a separate bonus bet. The bonus bet will be paid regardless of the dealer's hand. The amount and the odds paid on winning combinations are written at the tables.

Stud Poker uses cash value chips, which can be bought from the dealer at the table or from the cashier desk.

The player has to place bet in the box marked "Ante" according to the minimum and maximum of the table. The dealer will deal five cards each player and himself face down. The dealer's fifth card will be dealt face up. When you examine your hand of 5 cards you have to decide if you would like to bet against the dealer's hand or to fold.

Fold

If you wish to fold your hand the dealer will take your "Ante" bet and your cards as well.

Buying a card

The players have the option to change one card only. For this change the players have to pay an additional bet equal to the "Ante" bet. If the player buys a card he must continue the game till the end (no option for folding after buying a card) and has to place twice the amount of the "Ante" in the "Bet" box.

After all players made their decision to stay in the game or no the dealer reveals the remaining four cards.

Qualify

The dealer qualifies with a hand of Ace & King or a higher value hand. If the dealer does not qualify the game is over and all players' "Ante" bet are paid 1:1.

If the dealer does qualify he reveals the players cards and compare with his own cards. If you beat the dealer's hand you will be paid an equal amount to the "Ante" and odds on your "Bet".

Special Rankings

- When the dealer and the player both have an Ace & King, they are tied. In this case player's bet neither wins nor is lost.
- When the dealer and the player both have Straight, for winning hand will be considered the Straight with the highest value card. When the highest value cards in both Straights are the same, the dealer and the player are tied.
- When the dealer and the player both have Flush, for a winning hand will be considered the Flush with the highest value card. In case of similarity between the values of the cards in both Flushes, the dealer and the player are tied, but the bonus has to be paid.
- When the dealer and the player both have Full House, for winning hand will be considered the Full House with higher Three of a Kind.

Misdeal

A misdeal will be called if an incorrect number of cards are dealt to either the player or the dealer and if it is not clear which cards belong to which box. Such dealing will be canceled.

Blind hand

The player may also play a second box if there are free places on the table. But this would be played with cards closed (blind) and decided before cards dealt.
